- (a) if there is only one Candidate for an office, the Candidate will not be entitled to address the Convention and the Co-Chairs will declare such Candidate elected by acclamation.
- (b) if there is more than one Candidate for an office, then before the speeches, the Co-Chairs will draw lots to determine the order of presentation and during the speeches:
 - (i) the Co-Chairs will announce the names of all the Candidates for the office in the alphabetical order of the family names of the Candidates;
 - (ii) in the order determined by the drawing of lots, the Co-Chairs will call upon the Candidates to come to the podium to make a presentation;
 - (iii) the presentation of each Candidate will be timed from the moment that the Co-Chairs call upon them to come to the podium to make their presentation, and the length of the presentation will include the time used in coming to the podium and the speech of the Candidate.

5.2 Duration of presentations. The Convention Returning Officer has sole discretion over the duration of speeches by Candidates, and following the close of the nomination period provided under Subsection 3.2, is responsible to determine that duration based on the time dedicated to all speeches in the official agenda of the Convention and the number of Candidates who have not been acclaimed.

5.3 Eligibility to vote for Party Officers. All delegates accredited at a Convention of the Party have the right to cast a vote in the election of Party Officers.

5.4 Eligibility to vote for Commission Officers. All delegates accredited at a Convention of a Commission who meet the demographic requirements specified in the Constitution of that Commission have the right to cast a vote in the election of Commission Officers of that Commission.

5.5 Ballots for delegates. A registered delegate will be issued only with ballots for offices for which they are entitled to vote.

5.6 Secret ballot. Voting for the election of Party and Commission Officers will be by secret ballot.

5.7 Voting procedure. For each office, there will be only one ballot and the Candidate who receives a plurality of the votes cast in that ballot will be elected. In the case of a tie vote, the winner will be decided in a manner determined by the Convention Returning Officer.

5.8 Chief Scrutineer. Unless otherwise stated by the Candidate or their Chief Agent, the Chief Agent for each Candidate must act as Chief Scrutineer for that Candidate.

5.9 Scrutineers. The Chief Scrutineer for each Candidate will be allocated with the number of interchangeable scrutineer passes permitted by the Convention Returning Officer. The Chief Scrutineer may distribute these passes to delegates or persons having received access under Subsection 4.3 for them to be present in the voting area immediately before and during voting and to observe the counting of the ballots for that office on behalf of a Candidate.

6. GENERAL CONDUCT OF ELECTIONS

6.1 Integrity of ballots. The Convention Officer must at all times guarantee the integrity of the ballots and ballot boxes by ensuring:

- (a) the production of ballots that cannot readily be reproduced; and
- (b) that ballots and ballot boxes are kept securely.

6.2 Qualifications to vote. All registered delegates wishing to vote must wear their official delegate pass, and any person not wearing such a delegate pass may only vote upon the specific determination of the Convention Returning Officer that the person is a properly registered and accredited delegate and has not previously voted.

6.3 Time and place of voting. Voting will take place at the time and in the place provided in the official agenda of the Convention. The Convention Returning Officer may, in his or her discretion, determine that voting opens at a different time than that provided in the official agenda of the Convention and closes later than the time provided in the official agenda of the Convention. The Convention Returning Officer, in his or her discretion, may suspend voting at any time. Each registered delegate within the voting area at the close of voting is entitled to vote.

6.4 Advance polls. If, for religious reasons or a personal, family or medical emergency, or for some other similar reason, a registered delegate is unable to vote at the times specified in the official agenda of the Convention for the election of Party and Commission Officers, he or she, upon signing an affidavit setting out such reason, and, subject to the approval of the Convention Returning Officer, may be permitted to vote at an advance poll at the time and place designated by the Convention Returning Officer.

6.5 Conduct of scrutineers. Each scrutineer must wear the scrutineer pass provided by the Convention Returning Officer, indicating only the name of the candidate on whose behalf he or she acts. While in the voting area during voting, a scrutineer must not wear any pass (other than that provided by the Convention Returning Officer), accoutrement or garment or act in any manner that indicates support for a particular candidate and must not interfere in any way with the voting and counting procedures. The Convention Returning Officer has complete authority to control the activities of scrutineers to ensure there is no interference and no breach of this Bylaw.

6.6 Control over voting areas. The Convention Returning Officer may designate an area as the “voting area” for all purposes of this Bylaw. Only the Convention Returning Officer, the associate returning officers, deputy returning officers, poll clerks, scrutineers, registered delegates in the process of voting and those so authorized by the Convention Returning Officer may enter the voting area. No campaigning is allowed at any time in the voting area. The Convention Returning Officer has full authority over such areas and any other area designated by her or him as necessary for the voting procedure. Access may be restricted accordingly. Throughout the voting process the Convention Returning Officer may take all steps necessary to maintain order in the voting stations and voting and counting areas.

6.7 Assistance in voting. Any registered delegate requiring assistance to vote may be accompanied by another registered delegate of his or her own choosing to the appropriate voting station under the supervision of the Convention Returning Officer or may request the assistance of the Convention Returning Officer.

6.8 After polls close. Once the voting stations have closed and the counting of ballots begun and until the result of a ballot has been announced officially, no person in the voting or counting areas, except for the Convention Returning Officer, her or his assistants and anyone authorized by her or him, may leave the voting or counting areas or communicate in any way whether verbally, visually, electronically or otherwise with anyone outside the voting or counting areas or carry or use any communications device including, without limitation, a cell phone or a Blackberry.

6.9 Challenges. If a scrutineer wishes to challenge the actions of a designate or appointee of the Convention Returning Officer, such a challenge must be presented to the Convention Returning Officer by the Chief Scrutineer for the Candidate.

6.10 Announcement of results. In respect of each office to be elected, the Convention Returning Officer must report to the Co-Chairs the total number of delegates eligible to vote, the number of ballots cast for each Candidate, the number of ballots spoiled and the name of the successful Candidate. The Co-Chairs must then announce, at the time specified in the official agenda of the Convention, the name of the successful Candidate and may announce any of the other information provided by the Convention Returning Officer. The Convention Returning Officer must not otherwise disclose any portion of the results, other than for the purpose specified in Subsection 6.12.

6.11 Challenges following the announcement of results. If, following the announcement of the results, a Chief Scrutineer wishes to challenge the results of the election for which the Candidate they represent appeared on the ballot, she or he must present a written request to the Convention Returning Officer no later than two hours following the later of (a) the announcement of the results and (b) the close of the period provided in the official agenda of the Convention for the announcement of the results in respect to the election of Party and Commission Officers.

6.12 Destruction of ballots. Upon the adjournment of the Convention and in the absence of instructions to the contrary from the Co-Chairs, following the period provided under Subsection 6.11, the Convention Returning Officer may destroy the ballots.

FORM 4
DECLARATION OF COMPLIANCE WITH THE CODE OF CONDUCT

CODE OF CONDUCT

The Liberal Party of Canada is dedicated to the principles of individual freedom, responsibility and human dignity in the framework of a just society, and political freedom in the framework of meaningful participation by all persons. It is the expectation of the Party that all candidates for elected office of the Liberal Party of Canada or one of its Commissions, at all times, conduct themselves in accordance with these ideals and with regard for the history and traditions of the Party.

Principles of Integrity

Competing for Public Support Responsibly. We compete vigorously for public support, but we do not disparage those competing against us. Instead, we present our own strengths. We respect our confidential information. We never engage in illegal conduct. We will work with other Liberals on Party matters for the benefit of the Party and the public good.

Working with Others. We choose those with whom we work, keeping in mind our commitment to honour the public trust. We do not work with people or businesses whose values are incompatible with ours. Where a volunteer or an outside service provider will have a significant role in Party activities, we make sure that they follow this Code of Conduct.

Donations and Fundraising. We strive to keep accurate reports of who is providing financial and other support for the Liberal Party of Canada. We do this so we can have sufficient funds to carry on the business of the Party. We report actual contributions and incur and report expenses only in accordance with Party policies and the rules and regulations of the Canada Elections Act.

Using Information Responsibly. We protect confidential information obtained as well as private personal information about our people and others. We safeguard such information vigilantly. We use and disclose such information only for appropriate purposes and in accordance with law and personal standards. Consistent with our confidentiality obligations, we use and share our insights and knowledge within the Liberal Party of Canada for the purpose of enhancing our ability to serve our members.

Documenting Our Business. We maintain appropriate documentation of business transactions in accordance with all legal and personal requirements. We never destroy or alter, or counsel the destruction or alteration of, documents for any illegal or improper purpose. We formulate our document retention policies with these requirements in mind.

Employing Legally Protected Resources. We use a wide variety of resources, such as personal information and online resources that are developed through the hard work of persons inside and outside the Party. We respect the restrictions on use and reproduction that are a condition of our access to such information.

Volunteers/Employees

Personal Conduct

The Liberal Party of Canada expects the highest levels of personal conduct by all of us. Honesty and integrity form the cornerstones of relationships inside and outside the Liberal Party of Canada.

Volunteers

Volunteers play a vital role in the fulfillment of many of our goals. In some cases, the volunteer is highly visible. In other cases, volunteer activities are not well formalized or widely recognized. It is therefore very important to ensure our volunteers preserve and strengthen the reputation of the Liberal Party of Canada by acting consistently with this Code of Conduct.

Conduct in the Community

Everyone has the right to work in an environment free of harassment. Harassment creates an intimidating or hostile work environment and disrupts or interferes with another's work. Ethical personal conduct while doing Liberal Party of Canada activities means treating oneself and others with respect and fairness.

Harassment is any unwelcome or unwanted attention or discriminatory conduct based on an individual's race, colour, religion, sex, national origin, age, medical condition or disability, sexual orientation, or any illegal or inappropriate basis. It can include other verbal, nonverbal, or physical abuse. Something that is considered harmless by one individual may be perceived as harassment by another. The Liberal Party of Canada expects all of us to conduct ourselves in an appropriate manner and to conduct Party business with appropriate behaviour and integrity. If harassment does occur, we should report incidents as prescribed by the Harassment Policy adopted by the National Executive. All candidates for elected office of the Liberal Party of Canada or one of its Commissions should familiarize themselves with the Harassment Policy.

Proprietary Information

We will safeguard all proprietary information by marking information accordingly, keeping it secure and limiting access to those who have a need to know in order to do their work. Proprietary information includes any information that is not generally known to the public and is helpful to the Liberal Party of Canada. It also includes information that others have entrusted to us. The obligation to preserve proprietary information continues even after relationships with Liberal Party of Canada end.

Communications

The Liberal Party of Canada recognizes the vital role that clear and effective communication plays in sustaining relationships and safeguarding public confidence in its activities. Openness and transparency of operations are a key goal, subject to the demands of political confidentiality. Effective internal communication is of vital importance to the success of the Liberal Party of Canada, and open and honest two-way communication is encouraged.

All records and communications should be clear, truthful and accurate. Political and business records and communications often become public through litigation, government investigations and the media. We will avoid exaggeration, colourful language, guesswork, legal conclusions or derogatory remarks or characterizations of people. This applies to communications of all kinds, including e-mail and “informal” notes or memos. Records should always be retained and destroyed according to the standard record retention policies.

Staff of all candidates for elected office of the Liberal Party of Canada or one of its Commissions should familiarize themselves with the Communications Protocol that forms part of the National Executive Orientation Handbook. When they relate to the Liberal Party of Canada rather than to the campaign of the candidates for elected office of the Liberal Party of Canada or one of its Commissions, media communications and enquiries should be referred to the appropriate Liberal Party of Canada spokesperson. No candidate for elected office of the Liberal Party of Canada or one of its Commissions or volunteer or staff working with a candidate may represent themselves as official spokespeople of the Liberal Party of Canada unless they have been so designated by the National Executive or National Director.

Unauthorized Use of Liberal Party of Canada Assets

We are obligated to protect the assets of the Liberal Party of Canada. Party property, such as cash or other party funds, database information, or office equipment, may not be used for personal or any other reason other than Party business. Any misuse or misappropriation of Liberal Party of Canada funds, information, equipment, facilities or other assets may be considered criminal behaviour and can bring severe consequences.

Expenses may not be charged to the Liberal Party of Canada unless they are for Liberal Party of Canada purposes and must be accompanied by the appropriate authorizations and in the process set out by the Expenditure Authorization Guidelines as set out in the National Executive Orientation Handbook.

Liberal Party of Canada computers may not be used to access inappropriate Internet sites or to obtain or store unauthorized software (that is, pirated or unlicensed). Assigned Liberal Party of Canada property must be maintained in good condition.

Doing Business with Others

We will not do business with others who are likely to harm the Liberal Party of Canada’s reputation. We will not use a third party to perform any act prohibited by law or by this Code of Conduct.

The Wider Community

Public Image

Our reputation and identity are among the Liberal Party of Canada’s most valuable assets. No one should act in a way, or make any statement in any media, including Internet chat rooms and our internal electronic media, that adversely affects the reputation or image of the Liberal Party of Canada in the community at large. Only those designated by the National Executive or the National Director may act as official spokespeople for the Liberal Party of Canada.

Political Contributions

The Liberal Party of Canada seeks financial support for the Party and its Candidates, who stand behind the principles of a strong private sector and democratic government. Financial support shall only be given as permitted by Canada Elections Act and in accordance with Ethical Fundraising Guidelines approved by the National Executive.

Candidates for elected office of the Liberal Party of Canada or one of its Commissions will undertake its fundraising activities with the same high ethical standards and accountability that the Party holds for all its operations. These standards will respect the donor's privacy with respect to solicitation and ensure that our fundraising staff and volunteers adhere to applicable professional codes of ethics and standards of practices.

Communicating to External Audiences

We are expected to cooperate with reasonable requests for information from government agencies and regulators. All information provided must be truthful and accurate. We will not alter or destroy documents or records in response to an investigation or other lawful request.

The Liberal Party of Canada encourages us to contribute to our communities through involvement with other charitable, political, community service and personal organizations. We are free to do so as long as we make it clear that our views and actions are not those of the Liberal Party of Canada.

Compliance with Law

We act at all times in full compliance with both the letter and the spirit of legislative and regulatory requirements. We are not expected to commit or condone an unethical or illegal act or to instruct others to do so. We benefit from and comply with Canadian laws. We are expected to be sufficiently familiar with any laws that apply to our work to recognize potential dangers and to know when to seek legal advice. If in doubt, we should seek the guidance of independent legal counsel.

DECLARATION OF COMPLIANCE WITH THE CODE OF CONDUCT

I shall comply with the letter and spirit of this Code of Conduct and with the policies and procedures of the Liberal Party of Canada, and I shall communicate any suspected violations promptly to the National President of the Liberal Party of Canada.

I have read and agree to comply with this Code of Conduct and I have communicated, and will communicate, the contents of this Code of Conduct to those with whom I work during my campaign as a candidate for elected office of the Liberal Party of Canada or one of its Commissions for office.

I have no knowledge of any violation. I agree that if I come into knowledge of any violation under this Code of Conduct, I shall promptly inform the National President of the Liberal Party of Canada.
